Of that amount, taxes will be levied to raise about $7.1 million which entails the exact same millage levy as last year—6.889 mills. The rest of the budget is raised through other sources of income.

Comparative figures for the past two years on the budget show:

The board has also decided to mark time on a proposed revenue bond issue to raise a million dollars for extension of the county court room facilities. The board, next year, will likely float an issue backed by race track funds, to finance construction of a number of county office facilities other than court rooms, which are needed to alleviate over crowding in administrative sections.

Sales Tax Brings 28 Million Extra

TALLAHASSEE—The expanded sales tax law produced more than $28,000,000 over and above the normal anticipated tax increase from growth during fiscal 1963-64, J. Ed. Straughn, director of the Florida Revenue Commission, said today.

Straughn said expanded coverage, plus the normal increase, brought in $39,000,000 over the 1962-63 fiscal. He explained an increase of $31,000,000 must be achieved during the current fiscal year to produce an anticipated $60,000,000 for the biennium over and above normal gains.

Busy Schedule For Co. Commissioners

County Commissioners are continuing to set a busy schedule for themselves in the way of board meetings.

With three special and two regular meetings on the calendar for July, the commission voted this week to set another special session on the first Monday in August.

The transaction will be culminated Aug. 5 when the actual sale and interest payments will be made, Anderson stated.

City Manager Tevis Huguley and Anderson arranged for the sale of the bonds with the investment bankers that will allow $438,000 in bonds now drawing a 5 per cent interest rate to be retired.

Funeral Services Mac Coy Carter, 73

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at ten o'clock for Mac Coy Carter, 73, who passed away Saturday, July 18 at the Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee following a cerebral hemorrhage. The deceased was an ardent sportsman and a lover of outdoor life. He came to Canal Point in 1946 from Lincoln, Nebraska and upon his retirement a few years ago, he was owner and operator of the Canal Point Sports Shop. He along with friends was a frequent visitor to Fishingheat Creek, one of his favorite recreational spots, and it is over that area that the ashes of his remains will be scattered following cremation.

The deceased was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Masonic Lodge and Yusset-Kahn Grotto of Akron, Ohio. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Doris Carter of Port Mayaca, One son, Warren of Hinsdale, Illinois; one daughter, Miss Mary E. County Commissioners last week approved changing the name of Ramie Road in the Glades to Hatton Hiway. The highway connects Conners Highway east of Canal Point with Airport Road east of Pahokee.

Request that the road be renamed was made by Commissioner Paul Rardin, Canal Point, who said the Hatton family — particularly Ray Hatton — had been most instrumental in securing right of way for building the highway to its present 7½ mile length.

Work is in progress of hard surfacing Hatton Hiway and when completed will be another link in a complete loop through the sugar and vegetable growing section of the area lying between Pahokee and Belle Glade.

Circus Performers Held A Reunion

SARASOTA—More than 200 active and retired circus performers held a reunion on the grounds of the Ringling Residence in Sarasota recently. For some it was the first meeting in more than 40 years.

The group is in the process of forming an organization to include all people now living in Florida who have been active in any phase of circus life or show business.

Don Edwards of Sarasota, one of the organizers, reports that more than 1,200 circus and show people reside on Florida's West Coast alone. "Many of the circus folks are difficult to find," Edwards said. "We know them by the names they use as performers, but often their real names are entirely different."

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McKinstry, Jr., and children have returned from a month's vacation at Minnesota, N. C.

"The Truly Distinguished Prefers the Provinces"

Pahokee All-Stars Win Glades Crown

Pahokee All-Stars — between eight and 12 years of age — are the Glades Little League champions according to information furnished this newspaper by Delmar Hooks, coach and ardent sports fan. The Stars won a game Monday night from Clewiston in that Hendry county city by a score of 10 to 2, locking up the title.

On Saturday on the Pahokee diamond the Pahokee Stars defeated Clewiston by a score of 7 to 2.

Following their wins over Clewiston the Stars will go to Palm Springs for a regional tournament and should they win there they will participate in the state tournament.

Routine Costs Paid At World's Fair

TALLAHASSEE — The last $197,422 of the $1 million earmarked for the first year's operation of the Florida Pavilion of the New York World's Fair has been released to pay routine costs.

Release of the funds came after officials said the Florida exhibit has been operating in the red, mainly because general attendance at the fair was off.

State Development Commission Chairman Wendell Jarrard said the Florida Pavilion had been losing money, but there are no plans to close the exhibit as other states had done.

Recently the Florida Fair Authority voted to remove a 25 cent admission charge to the Florida Pavilion and to erect a special Everglades exhibit on the lake-front. The admission charge will be switched to the Everglades exhibit.

RAKE SALE SATURDAY. The Canal Point and Pahokee 4-H clubs will hold a bake sale at Echoes Grocery store, Saturday at 9 a.m. for the purpose of sending Palm Beach delegates to the national 4-H citizenship short course in Washington D. C.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

County Commissioners Monday decided to take a further look at a proposal offered by the Port of Palm Beach whereby the county will receive control of a portion of Peanut Island near the Palm Beach inlet for use as a recreation area.

The proposal — a lease agreement for $1 a year — was made some time ago to the board by the Port district. At that time, because of various facets of the agreement, which the commission said were not spelled out plain enough, the proposal was referred to the county engineer and county attorney for study and report back to the board.

An interim report by the attorney said that after conferences with the Port attorney, there were still a number of items that needed further explanation before the commission entered into the agreement. The attorney is slated to study the proposal further and make a report to the board at its regular meeting next Monday.

Bank Loans On The Increase In State

ORLANDO — The nation's banks increased their loans outstanding to farmers by $1.9 billion or 27 per cent during the past two years, according to "Agricultural Credit and Related Data" which was released today by the Agricultural Committee of The American Bankers Association. This raised the total bank loan outstanding to farmers over $9 billion as of January 1 of this year, according to T. P. Axton, chairman of the committee.

"Florida's banks have received from the ABA a special award for service to agriculture for 17 consecutive years," reported David B. Irons, president Florida Bankers Association, and executive vice president First National Bank, Stuart. Irons pointed out that the loan demand of farmers in recent years has been rising steadily and has been at record levels during the past two years. Contributing recently to this rapid climb has been the increased demand for long-term real estate mortgage. The mortgage volume held by banks has been increasing at a rate of 15 per cent annually during the past two years—approximately three times that for previous years. On January 1, 1964, the nation's banks held $2.4 billion of farm real estate mortgages, twice the amount they held ten years ago.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with knocks at the portal of humanity."

 these verses from Psalms: "Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from heaven.... Teach me thy way,

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns \$18.75 into \$25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months. With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and independence. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

... A WEEKLY REPORT BY

FARRIS BRYANT
Governor of Florida

The Florida Nuclear and Space Commission, like Cape Kennedy and the space-age industries in this state, is a symbol of Florida's progressive character.

When in 1954, the Atoms for Peace Program made available to the public for the first time the knowledge and techniques for harnessing atomic energy and utilizing its valuable by-products, it became a question of how to channel these benefits back to the people from what had previously been an absolute federal monopoly, and to find application for them at grass roots level.

Florida was quick to recognize the need for opening such a channel and was among the first states to make provision for it — at first with a Governor's Advisory Committee, and later with a state agency.

Briefly, the "Nuclear Commission," certainly unique among the state's more traditional agencies, maintains contact with technological developments in federal programs, like the Atomic Energy Commission, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and with the related industries. It has the technical competence to evaluate and interpret these developments and to initiate whatever action is called for to find application for them in Florida. It serves as a built-in technical advisory group, available to the Governor, Cabinet, Legislature and other state agencies.

The nine man Nuclear Commission, headed by Robert R. Guthrie of St. Petersburg, is a balance of leading industrial and technical people including the director of the nuclear science program at the University of Florida, a practicing radiologist, an engineering expert, and an executive of a missile manufacturing corporation.

The Commission has a salaried staff of two. It is the smallest of Florida's agencies, yet its range of activities and interest is extremely broad. The Commission's recent accomplishments include the fields of nuclear power reactors, converting salt water to fresh, promotion of the use of radioisotopes (particularly in therapeutic and diagnostic medical applications), protective legislation, the creation of a statewide Radiological Emergency Network, the establishment of speakers bureaus throughout the state, and the cooperation with federal authorities in radiological safety studies for the nuclear rocket program.

Most recently, on July 1, as Chief Executive of Florida, I signed an agreement with the Atomic Energy Commission which provided for the transfer of certain AEC regulatory powers to the state.

The signing was of historic and perhaps unique significance in other than technological terms. It is unusual for the Federal Government to relinquish any portion of its authority to a state. Historically the trend has been in the other direction. However, Congress recognized that the protection of life and property is basically and traditionally a responsibility of the individual state and in so doing encourages the state to develop the necessary technical competence and administrative ability to assume this responsibility. Florida is one of only seven states which have demonstrated the qualifications for this great responsibility.

Anxious as we were to assume this new role, we did so mindful of the philosophy of Thomas Jefferson who has been credited with saying, "He governs best who governs least." In this step, therefore, we propose by bringing the authority to control closer to the people to make it more adaptable to their needs and more responsive to their wishes.

The Nuclear Commission is Florida's response to the technological challenge of this age.

I have been thankful that we have equipped ourselves on the state level to read and interpret these developments into tangible projects which will be of economic and social benefit to the people of Florida.

I marvel at the future.

East Coast Park Is Being Considered

County Commissioners this week are studying the possibility of procuring a plot of waterfront property from the Florida Inland Navigation for possible use for east coast park purposes.

In addition to its potential as a recreational site, the land would make available, material that could be used for road building. The area is located on the Inland Waterway in the north end of the county.

In other actions this week the Commission:

Took under advisement, a request from the Florida East Coast railroad that safety gates be installed on a rail crossing at Canal Point. A road in that place, leads to a recreational area on the levee of Lake Okeechobee.

Approved demolition of an old building at the Home and Hospital and instructed the board engineer and attorney to report back next week on a proposal by the Flotilla Club to move an abandoned barracks building from the hospital area.

Received bids on construction of a jetty as part of the county's beach work with the apparent low bidder being the Murphy Construction Co., West Palm Beach at a price of $11,842.78.

Approved the employment of three additional heavy equipment operators for the county road and bridge department.

Received a $1,200 rebate on the county fire and extended coverage policy due to a decrease in rates.

In Florida...
after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.
